

Kaspar Hornikel

Director of Photography

BIOGRAPHY

Kaspar is a DOP raised in the 90's, now living in Berlin. As a student his film career started early on shooting extreme sports with friends, producing his very own series that got rally popular in the scene. At the end of his school degree he was already working on his first scenic shorts and started travelling the world as steadicam and b-cam operator.

While working on a lot of shortfilm projects and commercials with mates of the Filmakademie Ludwigsburg he developed his real sense for visual storytelling and interesting lighting. After being a part of Jetpack Films for 3 years he had to move on and pursue his own way while working with many different production companies and directors.

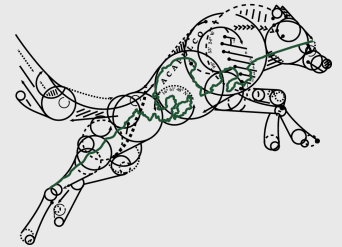

Since then he shot a high number of music videos, commercials and documentaries around the globe. His work is always related to the narrative while taking his background in musicvideos and extremsports to unique lighting and visual storytelling.

When he isn't shooting he spends most of his time travelling, shooting real film and enjoying pizza. Kaspar lived for filmmaking from his early days on and is on his route into bolder storytelling than ever. This has resulted in working with clients like Nike, Audi, Universal, Oakley, Loreal, =2, VW or CocaCola.
